Make sure you're on the right subscription

Could your business be on the wrong M365 plan?

Optimise costs

Could you be paying for more than you need?

Boost technology adoption

Could you achieve more by unlocking more applications?

If left without being optimised, your M365 tenancy can become unwieldy, cost-prohibitive and pose a real threat to your business.

M365 optimisation consultancy

While customers often right-size their tenancy upon the initial migration to M365 and ensure that correct licensing, features and security measures are implemented, over time these requirements change and gaps emerge.

Overpaying for licensing because licenses haven't been managed correctly

Important features that you're paying for aren't implemented which can cause a security threat (such as MFA)

Mailboxes aren't administered properly causing access issues

Collaboration tools enable quick creation of sites, channels and teams on the fly which can spiral out of control

As companies move to modernise their operations, Microsoft 365 offers an ever-growing comprehensive suite of tools to streamline collaboration, communication, productivity and management all in one convenient platform when configured optimally.

“ We're passionate about helping our customers be better through technology, and our M365 experts leave no stone unturned when it comes to ensuring you're working optimally and getting the most out of your licenses. Our M365 consultation days are centred around helping you become more efficient, more secure and often saving you money.
